ARTISTIC SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

Restorations and Roses

"Since its founding, The Garden Club of Virginia has enriched the lives not only of its members, but also of millions of fellow Virginians as well as visitors to our state. The programs, projects and passion of its members have had an immeasurable impact on the Virginia landscape.

"No other statewide organization rivals The Garden Club of Virginia in commitment to the common good, a vision for a better Virginia, and dedication to its own worthy goals."

John K. Zehmer

Class 40: Inter Club Class. Open only to Garden Club of Virginia member clubs and exhibited in the name of the club. All Inter Club arrangements will be displayed on a pedestal 42" high with a 12" square top, against a light gray wall. Arrangements not to exceed 24" in width.

Class 40A St. Luke's Church- Isle of Wight, Smithfield

St. Luke's Church is regarded as the oldest existing church of English foundation in America. It is the nation's only surviving original Gothic building. Not only was it used for worship services, but also for the 17th century meetings of the General Court. Today it is available for weddings, baptisms and special occasions.

An arrangement in the style of the arranger's choice, expressing the simple beauty of this historic church. The altar arrangement, in a brass container, is not to exceed 34 ½ inches in height (including container) so as not to be taller than the altar cross.

Class 40B University of Virginia- Charlottesville

From 1947 to 1977 the East and West lawns and gardens of the University and the forecourt of the Rotunda were restored. The Garden Club of Virginia persuaded the Commonwealth of Virginia to move parking lots and a road so that the serpentine walls designed by Mr. Jefferson could be replaced.

A Hogarth Curve arrangement exemplified by the serpentine wall. No height restriction.

Class 40C Washington and Lee University- Lexington

In 1933, the Lee Chapel garden was planted. In 1977, the brick terrace was restored. In 1994, the 19th - century Victorian gardens and grounds were landscaped.

An Early Victorian arrangement. No height restriction.

Class 40D Montpelier- Orange

A few trees planted by President James Madison still remain in the present landscape of his home, Montpelier.

Restoration of the terraced, walled gardens and large crescent borders was completed in 1992.

A Crescent arrangement reminiscent of these borders. No height restriction.

Open Classes – Limited to six entries in each class.

Classes open to all exhibitors. Arrangements must be the work of one individual. Accessories permitted unless otherwise stated.

Class 41 Burwell - Morgan Mill- Clark County

Landscaping was begun in 1971 and completed in 1973. Rustic stones and gravel forecourt and a sweeping slope to waters' edge remind one of Oriental tranquility.

An arrangement in the Oriental manner placed on a round table 32" high and 72" in diameter divided into thirds by black niches 36" high and 24" wide with 12" wings. Table is covered in a floor length white cloth.

Class 42 Maymont- Richmond

Over a two year period, the specimen trees and the shrub labyrinth were restored. The red walk and red details expressed in the home's architecture were finished in 1988.

A Line arrangement using only red roses and line material placed on a round table 32" high and 72" in diameter divided into thirds by black niches 36" high and 24" wide with 12" wings. Table is covered in a floor length white cloth.

Class 43 Kent Valentine House - Richmond

At the 1971 Board of Governors' meeting hosted by the Franklin Garden Club, The Garden Club of Virginia voted to purchase this home for its state headquarters. The landscaping of the grounds was done in 1972. In 1991, at another Board of Governors' Meeting in Franklin, the Garden Club of Virginia voted for the renovations of the Kent-Valentine House. In 2004 the rebuilding of the brick wall was completed. Recently the balustrades have been replaced by GCV members, clubs, donors and the Restoration committee.

A Contemporary Mass arrangement incorporating a balustrade of your choice. Arrangement exhibited on a table 32" high and 72" in diameter divided in half by black niches 36" high and 24" wide with 12" wings. The table is covered in a floor length white cloth.

Class 44 Oatlands - Leesburg

Unlike most historical Virginia homes, Oatlands House has never undergone any structural changes. It is renowned for its classic beauty and Corinthian columns. In 1991 the restoration of a sixty foot section of the early 1800's garden forcing wall was completed. The majestic terraced steps of brick and stone magnify the beauty of the garden.

A Phoenix Design arrangement simulating the rising of the steps and terraces using brick and/or stone for container. The arrangement is displayed on a table 42" high and 30" in diameter covered in a white cloth.

Class 45 Woodlawn - Fairfax County

By 1845 Woodlawn Plantation was in dire neglect. The land was divided and had many owners. In 1925 the home's new owner restored the home and much of the grounds. Rose and bulb gardens were planted and brick paths were constructed. From 1953 to 2005 the GCV has restored gardens, orchard paths, fences, gates and the Visitors Reception Center.

A Parallel arrangement interpreting the neglect and restoration, the highs and lows, in the history of this National Shrine and Museum. The arrangement is displayed on a table 42" high and 30" in diameter covered in a white cloth.

Novice Class (Open to those who have not previously won a GCV Blue Ribbon for artistic design.)

Class 46 Prestwoud Plantation- Clarksville

Restoration projects were started at Prestwood in 1980. By 1998 the GCV had restored the grounds, summerhouse, installed a water holding tank, irrigations system and added 18th century garden gates. This had been the home of Lady Jane Skipwith. Lady Skipwith was believed to have created one of the earliest formal colonial gardens.

A small arrangement in a demitasse cup for the ladies at Prestwoud. Cup not to exceed 3 inches in height. The cups will be elevated to eye level on a white cloth in 12 inch space. They can be viewed from all sides and will not be placed in a niche. The arrangement cannot exceed 8 inches in any dimension.
